ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE AT GUILFORD BATTLE GROUND

Thousands of People Will Gather Tuesday
For Twenty-Third Annual Celebration---
Several Interesting Features---Flag
Presentation And Speeches.

The arrangements for the twenty-third annual celebration at Guilford Battle Ground Tuesday, July 4, are about complete and the indications point to the biggest event in the history of the Battle Ground Association. While the celebration will be of a joyous nature, nevertheless, a tinge of sadness will mingle with the pleasures of the day, for the face of him who labored long and faithfully to bring the historic spot to its present standing will not be seen.

One feature of the day will be the presentation to the company of a reproduction of the flag carried by Greene's regulars during the great battle of the Revolution. The address will be by Col. J. Bryan Grimes and Hon. Alfred M. Scales will accept the flag in behalf of the company. Then there will be a memorial address by Col. Cyrus Watson, of Winston, a lifelong friend of the late Maj. Joseph M. Morehead.

The Battle Ground is a mecca for thousands of people of this and adjoining counties and old friends take advantage of the occasion to meet and exchange words of greeting and at the same time enjoy a delightful outing. In Greensboro business will be practically suspended and the citizens join in making the celebration the success it deserves to be. People from the rural districts will bring baskets and enjoy a picnic dinner, while scores of people will have refreshment booths provided at which there will be things to quench thirst and appease hunger. In the afternoon a novel feature will be a balloon ascension.

The official program for the occasion follows:
10 o'clock a. m. Procession will form at President's Cottage, in the following order: Marshals, S. Glenn Brown, chief. Band, Military, Boy Scouts, Carriages for Speakers and Guests of the day; Citizens generally. The procession will move to Speakers' Pavilion.

CANNING SCHOOL HELD HERE FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Demonstrators Give Practical Instruction on Canning of Fruits And Vegetables; Also How to Destroy Bacteria—Two County
Demonstrators to Work County.

Prof. I. O. Schaub, State agent of the Boys' and Girls' Club work, and O. H. Benson, assistant in Demonstration Club Work of Washington, D. C., conducted a canning school in Greensboro during the past two days for the benefit of the State and District agents of Virginia and North Carolina.

Representatives of the Rainey Canning Company, of Chapel Hill, and Mr. Flowers, representative of the Home Canning Company, of Hickory, were present during the two days' session to demonstrate the use and expert management of their respective machines. The demonstration consisted of the canning of fruit and vegetables in both tin and glass. The following fruits and vegetables were used in the demonstration work—tomatoes, dewberries, huckleberries, snap beans and squash. The meeting was considered one of great value to all of the state workers, as all the fundamental principles of canning work were thoroughly discussed and demonstrated. Every member of the party were required to do the work from the management of the canning machine to the capping and labeling of the finished product.

Lessons were given by experts on how to destroy bacteria, mold, etc., and to do the sterilization work in the canning of all vegetables and fruits. The following constituted the class of state and district agents who were present to receive the instruction and to participate in the general conference. Miss Ella G. Agnew, State agent of Virginia; Miss Lucille Kennett and Mrs. E. J. Coltrane, district agents for North Carolina; Miss Mary Jackson, Miss Hattie Hughes, Miss Sadie Terry, district agents for the State of Virginia. Prof. E. J. Coltrane, principal of schools at Jamestown, N. C. President J. I. Foust and Supt. T. R. Foust were also present at a number of the sessions. A number of the local people, both men, women and girls visited a number of the sessions and demonstrations.

It may be of interest to the general public to know that this is a special line of work in Demonstration Club Work which has been inaugurated through the Farmers' Co-operative Demonstration Department of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., and that for the present year as an experiment the club has been organized with a membership of something near three thousand. Every girl has been furnished printed instructions for the raising of one-tenth of an acre of tomatoes, cucumbers and snap beans, and the second division of the educational work is in holding canning schools throughout the county in the states and in teaching the club membership the science of fruit and vegetable canning. This instruction, of course, is broad enough to make it applicable to the canning of all fruits and vegetables available in any territory, and it is easy to contemplate the significance and ultimate value of this class of instruction to the people of the Southern States. During the past century only a very small per cent of the common people have known how to properly can the necessities for daily life.

Miss Lucille Kennett and Mrs. E. J. Coltrane will have charge of the 'canning school demonstrations of Guilford county and will hold a number of these schools throughout the county for the purpose of giving demonstrations to the club membership, and to these meetings the general public, especially the housewives, will not only be invited but urged to be present. Every intelligent citizen

Case of the McNamaras, Accused In Los Angeles Dynamiting Affair, About to Be Called For Trial

Prosecution and defense announce their readiness to proceed with the trial at Los Angeles, on July 5 of John J. and James B. McNamara, indicted in connection with the destruction of the Los Angeles Times building in October last. J. B. Fredericks will present the state's case and Leo M. Rappaport will appear as chief counsel for the defendants. In the picture is also shown the courthouse where the trial will take place.

THE TESTIMONY OF HINES CORROBORATED

Witnesses Before Senate Committee Verified
His Statement of Facts.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 1.—Frances Carroll, the telephone operator in the office of the Edward Hines Lumber Company at Chicago, and Fred Karney, of the Karney Lumber Co., of Marinette, Wis., were leading witnesses today before the Senate committee investigating the election of Senator Lorimer. Both corroborated portions of testimony given by Edward Hines, of Chicago, who has been charged with having a part in raising the Lorimer election fund.

The committee having in view a recess next week in its hearing excused subject to call the three detectives whom Clarence S. Funk, general manager of the International Harvester Co. when he appeared on the stand complained were shadowing him.

Miss Carroll testified that she overheard the long distance talk Mr. Hines held with Springfield on the day Lorimer was elected and repeated the conversation substantially as Mr. Hines had done. She denied that Hines had said anything about the use of money in his conversation, as has been testified. On cross examination she was unable to recall the date or substance of any other long distance conversation Mr. Hines had held in the ten years she has been in his employ.

Mr. Karney's testimony agreed with Mr. Hines' as to how Mr. Funk approached Mr. Hines at the Union League club and walked away with him to wards the club entrance. It was in this conversation that Mr. Funk declared Mr. Hines asked him to contribute to the Lorimer election fund and regarding which Mr. Hines testified that Mr. Funk asked for the privilege of contributing funds. Mr. Karney said he heard nothing of the conversation.

The committee decided after the morning session to take a recess today

INVESTIGATION OF EXPRESS COMPANIES

Interstate Commerce Commission Will Look
Into Their Methods
of Business.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 1.—A sweeping investigation of all the express companies in the United States affected by the Interstate Commerce laws was ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission today on its own motion. Evidently in anticipation of this action by the commission practically all the express companies, with the exception of the Long Island, late yesterday afternoon filed new tariffs, which are believed to be a material reduction in rates.

It was said today that it would require several months to compare these rates with those now in existence. It was also announced that the filing of the new rates would not affect the proposed investigation in any way. This investigation will be one of the widest in scope ever undertaken by the commission and will not only be conducted as to rates but as to the tariffs and revenues of the various companies.

More than a year ago members of the leading commercial organizations of the country petitioned the commission for a general investigation into the rates and methods of express companies. The commission has been considering this in connection with various cases brought against individual companies.

The proposed tariffs, which are to become effective August 1, will be included in the inquiry instituted today by the commission. Because of the fact of their reduction no efforts will probably be made to suspend the proposed combination rates but if the inquiry should show that the reductions are not, in the opinion of the commission, sufficient to meet the requirements of express commerce they will undoubtedly be further reduced.

until July 13 when it will reconvene to resume hearings in Washington instead of Chicago as originally planned.

REASONS

For Clark's Declining to Become Candidate
For Nomination For President.

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 1.—Missouri politicians of both parties who have been at the White House in the last week tell what they claim to be the true story of Speaker Clark's reported declination to be considered a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President in spite of offers from his own State and other States. The story, which is well authenticated, is that the Missouri Democratic State Convention in 1908 favored ex-Gov. Folk as the Missouri candidate for President. At the State convention three years ago it is well known that resolutions were passed pledging the Democrats of the state to support Clark for speaker of the House and Folk for President. These resolutions were agreed to by Clark and other Democratic leaders. Then in 1910 three candidates entered the State wide primary for the Democratic nomination for Senator. They were ex-Gov. Folk, ex-Secretary David R. Francis and James A. Reed, who finally triumphed.

STAUNTON COUNCIL DID NOT ELECT MANAGER.

Special to Telegram.

Staunton, Va., July 1.—The council today failed to elect a general manager, granting a request of the committee for a month longer to report on candidates. All heads of departments and members of the wards were elected. Z. T. Callaghan, superintendent of streets, was defeated for reelection by A. W. Tash and J. R. Taylor was elected city attorney in place of J. M. Perry, who was not a candidate for re-election.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS FELT THROUGHOUT CALIFORNIA

In San Francisco Plastering Was Knocked
From Walls And People Badly Frightened
---One Man Died of Fright---Skyscrapers Groaned.

Special to Telegram.

San Francisco, Cal., July 1.—Heavy earthquake shocks were felt here this afternoon. Plastering was knocked off downtown buildings. The people rushed from their houses and Market street was filled with frightened employees from the big buildings. Between Third and Fourth streets the street was covered with fragments of cement, from the tall structures.

Herbert Hadley fell dead from fright in his lodging house when the shock was first felt. Several people were cut and bruised from falling glass and crockery.

As far as is known two distinct shocks hit San Francisco and the State of California from San Jose in the south to Fresno in the north, and reaching Nevada at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The duration of the tremors was about 30 seconds. They appeared to have centered from the Pacific ocean and moved eastward.

In San Francisco the first shock was accompanied by a crumbling reverberation which usually presages a disturbance of serious aspect. In downtown stores, cafes and mercantile establishments there was a panic. People rushing into the street and in every direction. In a few seconds after the first shock many of the buildings were de-populated.

The telephone operators in the central exchanges left their switchboards and communication was destroyed. It sent wild rumors concerning the loss of life and damage, many people thinking that with the failure of the telephone wires that much damage had been done in the center of the city. Heavy stones in the cornice of the Mechanic Bank building and postoffice building were moved and much damage was done in interior walls of many buildings.

At San Jose in the southern part of the State the shock was the heaviest since 1906. At the observatory at San Jose College the seismographs were badly damaged by the quake. Both reels were thrown off the recorder. They were quickly replaced, but not in time to get a perfect record of the wave. The big clock of the University of California was stopped for the first time since the big earthquake of five years ago. A remarkable feature of the disturbance at San Francisco was the groaning and creaking of the steel skyscrapers and this noise did more to frighten the people than did the shocks themselves.

SENATE AND HOUSE TAKE A VACATION

Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 1.—Both houses of Congress met today but almost immediately adjourned until next Wednesday without transacting any business and under the agreement of the leaders providing for a Fourth of July vacation. For the first time in the service Charles G. Bennett, secretary of the Senate, presided over an entire session of that body. The session of the Senate lasted three minutes, while the House was in session ten minutes.

ASIATIC CHOLERA IN ALBANY, N. Y.

Special to Telegram.

Albany, N. Y., July 1.—Asiatic cholera has made its appearance in this city. Comasso Ciratti, an Italian immigrant who arrived here three weeks ago, suddenly died in his boarding house here today. He was ill since yesterday. A detachment of police immediately surrounded the house by order of Mayor O'Neill and the State health officers were notified. All of Ciratti's effects have been burned. Fifteen inmates of the house who were exposed to the disease are in rigid quarantine.

to relieve this condition is to cease being still and move along to the near beer saloons.

The Charlotte Observer of Saturday mixed its baseball paragraphs with its society news. Greensboro has been losing some games lately, but the effect on the newspapers of this city has not been
as bad as that.

Augusta, Georgia, is manifesting interest in commission government. In Atlanta a big fight for a commission is being waged by the Journal and a large number of citizens. The commission idea continues to spread.

Perhaps the reason the Washington
baseball team does not play the national game with more success is due to the fact that all Washington, except the team, is engaged in playing the political game.

President Diaz is now in Germany,
which is evidence sufficient to prove that he has no designs on the lecture platform. The only country in the world where a man who is down and out can make a success on the lecture platform
is the United States of America.

Massachusetts judge decided that a man in that State had a right to get drunk on his birthday. It is rather difficult for the average sensible American citizen to refrain from criticizing the judiciary in a case where the representative of the judiciary is a jackass.

The Gambier divorce case is a horrible example of the trouble which may be started by lack of kissing among married folks. All who are married should take warning and begin at once to apply plenty of kisses to the difficulties of matrimonial life.

Greenville Piedmont says that every one of the North Carolina newspapers ought to be given a mendacity medal. It is probably true that all of them would have to plead guilty if forced to make a statement, as all North Carolina newspapers have at times published stories which originated in South Carolina.

The Charlotte Observer frankly admits a close acquaintance with near beer, and is duly regretful because of the demise of its friend and companion. Weep not, brother, near beer has probably disappeared for a few days preparatory to re-appearing in another guise. Anyway, there is the residue of "something stronger," and while it is contraband, it is possible for the extremely thirsty to secure relief occasionally.

THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE BAR ASSOCIATION.

The North Carolina Bar Association,
which was in session the past week at Toxaway, adopted the report of the committee on law reforms in which changes were urged in the judiciary system of the State, in the remuneration of solicitors and in the laws governing the jury system. The first recommendation of the Association is that the number of superior court judges should be increased from sixteen to twenty-four and that the rotation system should be abolished. The solicitors should be paid salaries, is the third recommendation;
and the fourth relates to changes in the law governing the selection of juries.
This should be modified, the association believes. The opinions of the lawyers of the State on all these points should be carefully considered; and anything favored by a majority of the attorneys composing the Bar Association is certain to attract the attention and interest of other classes of citizens. It is not certain, however, that the people will favor
the adoption of all of the recommendations of the Association, and it is doubtful if at least one of them could be put into practice for the good of the State.

It is believed by many citizens that the number of superior court judges should be increased, the opinion being general
that the number is not sufficient to enable justice to be administered with dispatch. In other words, there is said to be more business for the courts than the present number of judges are able to successfully cope with. The tendency of this State of affairs is to delay the administration of justice, which is a dangerous condition, as all intelligent citizens are aware. The law's delays are responsible for much of the unrest among the people and dissatisfaction with the administration of the laws and for the growing disrespect for the courts and the judiciary. The law's delays are likewise responsible for the growth of the mob spirit in this country and to this source may be traced responsibility for most of the lynchings which have occurred from time to time. It is not difficult to understand that the wheels of justice may be blocked by congestion of court business and that overworked judges may be unable to remedy difficulties of this nature. If the State needs more superior court judges to dispatch the business and to afford prompt and efficient administration of the laws, the change suggested by the Bar Association should certainly be made. It should not be difficult to determine if the need exists, as those familiar with court procedure, in addition to the lawyers, ought to be able to give expression to intelligently founded opinions on this point.

The suggestion of the Bar Association
that the rotation system should be abolished is one about which there is likely to be wider difference of opinion than in regard to the matter of increasing the number of judges. The rotation system for the judges has some strong points
and great advantages, features which commend it to all citizens who are interested in the proper enforcement of the laws. It is doubtful if the proposition to destroy the rotation system will meet with much favor outside of the Bar Association. In most of the States the circuit judges have fixed districts and usually reside in the district in which they reside and in which they are elected. The fact that this plan prevails to a large extent does not necessarily mean that it is the best plan. In fact, the Telegram believes the North Carolina plan has advantages in comparison with the fixed circuit system which fully justify its retention as the policy of this State in regard to its circuit judges.

The revision of the jury system is a matter which, doubtless, needs attention;
but the details of what is proposed by the Bar Association are lacking, and this paper is not prepared to discuss this feature in the absence of knowledge of just what changes are proposed by the lawyers. The proposition to place the solicitors on a salary basis The Telegram regards with favor. The salary basis is the wise plan for the remuneration of all classes of public officials. The general adoption of this plan for all the officials of the State would prove to be a practical reform of direct and real benefit to the people.

On the whole the recommendations of the Bar Association are such as to start a train of discussion which will likely result in study of questions of great importance to the State; and the resultant enlightenment and dissemination of information will help the voters to arrive at an understanding of what is best to be done in settling these problems.

"THE NEW AGE."

One of the most attractive small magazines which has fallen under the editor's observation lately is "The New Age," the official organ of the Supreme Council of Thirty-Third Degree Scottish Rite Masons, which is issued in New York City and is devoted to literature, science and Freemasonry. The June number of this magazine contained a long article by W. E. Osborne, entitled
"How the Manager of the Largest Cotton Mills in the South Has Solved His Labor Problem." The article was one dealing with the founding and upbuilding of the cotton manufacturing industry of this city by the Comes, and it relates mainly to the methods which have been used to secure and retain a very high class of working people and to the welfare work at the mills and the numerous methods which have been adopted to improve the condition of the operatives and make life at these mills more desirable than at almost any other cotton mill in the South.

BALTIMORE IS HUSTLING FOR THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Baltimore wants the Democratic National convention next year, and proposes to offer $100,000 for the privilege of entertaining this gathering, which is the greatest assemblage of Democratic leaders that is ever brought together in this country. Baltimore proposes to fight Chicago to a finish to secure the convention next year, and has raised a sum of money which it is believed will be sufficient as an inducement to take the convention to the oyster city, when all the other advantages are taken into consideration.

The last national convention of either of the great parties held in Baltimore was in 1872, when the Democrats indorsed Greeley. Previous to that time Baltimore enjoyed a vogue as a convention city similar to that Chicago has today. There Jackson was renominated in 1832; Van Buren was nominated in 1836, and renominated four years later.
It was in Baltimore that Polk leaped into celebrity in the convention of 1844.
Pierce was nominated in Baltimore in 1852. Among unsuccessful candidates who received nominations in Baltimore
were West, Clay (twice), Cass, Scott, Douglas, Breckenridge, Bell and Greeley.
Lincoln was renominated at Baltimore in 1864. Previous to 1856, when Buchanan received the Democratic standard at Cincinnati, neither of the great parties
had "gone West" in search of a convention city.

WHAT NORTH CAROLINA EDITORS ARE SAYING.

The New Commissioner of Education.
President Taft on yesterday announced
the appointment of Philander Claxton, professor of education at the University of Tennessee, as Commissioner of Education, succeeding Elmer E. Brown resigned. Prof. Claxton was formerly a member of the faculty of the State Normal and Industrial College at Greensboro, and is pleasantly known to many of our readers.—Webster's Weekly.

Lived in North Carolina.

Dr. P. P. Claxton, whom President Taft has just made commissioner of education, was born in Tennessee and is credited to that State, but both Asheville and Greensboro are ready to affirm that he has spent part of his career in North Carolina. And his record here leaves no doubt that Mr. Taft, as usual, has made a good use of his appointive
power.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Pull for the New Road.

It now begins to look as if Oxford has bright prospects for a new railroad if our business interests will assume the aggressive. Greensboro people tell us that the Greensboro, Roxboro, and Norfolk line will be constructed and that in no very great length of time. The Elm City is hot for a competing line

and her men of affairs are on the job
twenty-four hours in the day.

One of the proposed routes is to connect with the Seaboard at Henderson, which would put Oxford on the line, and another is to go in a more northerly direction to Norlina in order to save a few miles. Mr. McAdoo was here the other day with the purpose of interesting people locally and it is hoped that his visit has been successful. Oxford could not be presented a more valuable thing
than a new road; and on the other hand, it would be greatly injured, to have one
skip us by and go just to the north.
This would be a great calamity, and the Ledge cannot conceive of our business men as being guilty of such stupidity as to let it happen. Our people should take this question up right now and keep steadily at work until the road comes.
This is a matter in which every single human being in our town is vitally interested.—Oxford Ledger.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound

either children or grown persons. No opiates, no harmful drugs. In the yel-

"A man should think before he

Kidney Diseases Are Curable

under certain conditions. The right medicine must be taken before the disease has progressed too far. Mr. Perry A.
Pitman, Dale, Tex., says: "I was down in bed for four months with kidney and bladder trouble and gall stones. One bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy cured me well and sound." Ask for it. Howard Gardner.

Hay Fever and Summer Colds

Must be relieved quickly and Foley's Honey and Tar Compound will do it. E.
M. Stewart, 1034 Wolfram St., Chicago, writes: "I have been greatly troubled during the hot summer months with Hay Fever and find that by using Foley's Honey and Tar Compound I get great relief." Many others who suffer similarly will be glad to benefit by Mr. Stewart's experience. Howard Gardner.

Honest Medicines Versus Fakes.

President Taft's recent message suggesting an amendment to the Pure Food and Drugs law in its relation to Prepara-ted Medicines, does not refer to such standard medicines as Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and Foley's Kidney Pills,
both of which are true medicines carefully compounded of ingredients whose medicinal qualities are recognized by the medical profession itself as the best known remedial agents for the diseases they are intended to counteract. For over three decades Foley's Honey and Tar Compound has been a standard remedy for coughs, colds and affections of the throat, chest and lungs for children and for grown persons, and it retains today its pre-eminence above all other preparations of its kind. Foley Kidney Pills are equally effective and meritorious. Howard Gardner.

Escaped With His Life.

"Twenty-one years ago I faced an awful death," writes H. B. Martin, Port Harrelson, S. C. "Doctors said I had consumption and the dreadful cough I had looked like it, sure enough. I tried everything I could hear of, for my cough,
and was under the treatment of the best doctor in Georgetown, S. C., for a year, but could get no relief. A friend advised me to try Dr. King's New Discovery. I did so, and was completely cured. I feel that I owe my life to this great throat and lung cure." Its positively guaran-

Pope Versus Devil.

District Attorney Jerome was chaffing Archbishop Farley the other day in his usual free and easy manner.
"Suppose," he asked at last, "that the Pope and the devil were to litigate a cause, which do you suppose would win?"
"The devil," said the Archbishop, with a malicious twinkle in his eye. "He would have all the lawyers on his side."

CHARLOTTE SOUTH'S STRONGEST CENTER OF PRESBYTERIANISM.

Denomination Has Eleven Churches
There and Fourth Largest Church in
the South.

Charlotte, July 1.—Charlotte is to the front ecclesiastically as well as commercially and industrially.
The General Assembly's minutes of the Southern Presbyterian Church, just issued, furnish very interesting reading to members of that denomination living in Charlotte. They show that the city and its environs support eleven Presbyterian churches with a total membership of 3,355, making it the strongest center of Presbyterianism in the Southland.

The minutes give report of 3,375
churches, making up the Southern General Assembly. Of this number there are four that are especially noticeable, by reason of the fact that their membership is expressed by four figures. In other words there are four churches whose membership exceeds 1,000. These are: First church, Nashville, Tenn., of which Dr. James I. Vance is pastor, with a membership of 1,319; First church of Houston, Texas, Rev. Dr. Jacobs pastor, with a membership of 1,240; the Central church of Atlanta, Ga., whose pastor is Rev. Dr. Ogden, has a membership of 1,081; the Second church of Charlotte, whose pastor is Dr. A. A. McGeachy, shows a membership of 1,026.

NO CHANGES IN CANADIAN BILL

Democrats Will Not Amend the Reciprocity Measure.

AFTER NEWSPAPER SUPPORT.

For This Reason They Will Not Accept Offer of Insurgents to Load the Legislation With Downward Revision. Senator Nelson Says Best Plan is to Be Candid With All.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 1.—(Special.)—

Canadian reciprocity bill will not be amended by Democratic votes. While the offer of the insurgents to load the bill with general downward revision is alluring, and there might be some political advantage gained by "putting it up to Taft" to sign or veto such a measure, there is better politics in keeping the measure unamended and making sure that it will become a law. Here is the reason: At present the newspapers are with the men who are putting through the reciprocity agreement because it gives them what they want and what they have been asking for. Newspaper support is welcome to the Democracy. With Bryan as the party candidate the Democrats have had little newspaper support for many long years. Now the newspapers are with them, and they are not going to do anything to turn the newspapers away.

The Democrats are going to be the saviors of Canadian reciprocity, and they are not going to be beguiled into general tariff revision on the Canadian bill.

Proof Comes Out.

A few lines from two different speeches show how the newspapers figure in the Canadian legislation. "I am sorry," said Senator Nelson, a near insurgent, "to see the senator from Iowa (Cummins) pandering to the clamor of certain newspapers. The plain English is that we may fool the newspapers and the American people, but the best plan is to be candid and tell them what there is in this legislative gild brick." The Minnesota senator was referring to the pulp and paper provision in the agreement.

Only a short time before Senator Cummins had been in controversy with Senator Gallinger and expressing his opinion to the Root amendment. "I am not here," said Cummins, "as the apologist of the newspapers. Forcibly they treated me with some kindness, but any one who has seen the issues for the past few months will understand my unselfishness in what I am saying."

Cummins had been the recipient of praise from the papers, but his opposition to the Canadian agreement has brought a great deal of criticism. And so I say the Democrats are not going to take any position in regard to that agreement which will change the attitude of the newspapers toward them.

Sure of His State.

By putting it up to the people of Oregon to elect him or some other man Jonathan Bourne shows that he either does not care much about staying in the senate or that he is sure of his state. Those who know Bourne are aware that the latter is the fact. "You couldn't beat Bourne with the best candidate running and with the privilege of spending any amount of money," was the remark of one who knows.

Good Roads Needed.

It was a bold thing for Senator Simmons to halt the tariff discussion, of which every man elected to either house of congress is so fond, and tell a few plain facts about the roads of the country. Simmons said that the loss on account of poor roads is $300,000,000 a year, the amount which Senator Aldrich said could be saved if a business man were running the government. Good roads, according to Samuel Hill, who devotes all his time to the subject, are more important than any of the half dozen topics that continue to occupy the attention of congressmen.

Did Not Get Credit.

Congressman Payne of New York called attention to the fact that he failed to get credit for an act that became famous on account of important supreme court decisions. The insular cases, upon which the court by a 5 to 4 decision sustained the law that the United States could levy a duty on the products of islands acquired from Spain, was based on an

NEW SUNDAY CLOSING ORDINANCE EFFECTIVE

Becomes Operative Today—Provides That Necessities May be Sold on Sunday—Ice Cream, Cigars And Soft Drinks Classed as Necessities.

The new Sunday closing ordinance becomes effective today and, according to the city officials means the lid is on tight on every article except vital "necessities." However, the town is really wide open so far as Sunday selling is concerned, as the ordinance provides that things formerly sold in the city may still be sold, cigarettes alone being barred. However, it is believed that these can also be sold as it will be easy to class them as tobacco.

The ordinance, after prescribing that nothing except necessities can be sold, goes on to define what, in the opinion of the commissioners, are to be called necessities, as follows:

"Provided, also, that ice cream, cigars, tobacco, newspapers and periodicals shall be construed as necessities; and provided further, that soft drinks, when sold at soda fountains, restaurants or cafes shall also be construed as necessities."

The ordinance makes persons violating the ordinance, which is not applicable to Lindley Park, subject to a fine of $25.

Prior to this time an ordinance passed and amended by the Board of Aldermen was effective. This prescribed that nothing should be sold later than 10 o'clock on Sunday mornings, ice cream being excepted. Now all "necessities" mentioned above can be procured at drug stores, restaurants, cafes, etc., but not at grocery stores. One gentleman was only yesterday lamenting the fact that he could no longer procure a stick of gum on the Sabbath, and even went so far as to hint that he would petition the commissioners to pass an amendment allowing gum to be classed as a necessity.

It is hardly probable that there will be any objection to the ordinance as it leaves the conditions, so far as Sunday closing are concerned, just as they were long before a Sunday ordinance was dreamed of. It is along the lines of the State law against Sunday selling, only that it defines what necessities are and makes violators liable to a fine of $25 instead of $1. To sum up the new ordinance and its effect the city officials have said to those doing business on Sunday: "You may continue to sell the things you have been selling, but you must not sell anything that you have not been selling."

It was expected that the Ministers' Association would rise against the ordinance and prevent its going into effect, but no action has been taken as yet. The city could have just as well repealed the old ordinance and not passed a new one with exactly the same result as will obtain under the present ordinance.

MENDENHALL-WHITE.

The Beautiful Marriage Rite of the Friends Unites Popular Couple.

High Point, July 1.—A marriage of more than ordinary interest took place here at the residence of Walter A. White when his daughter, Miss Elsie White, and E. Clarkson Mendenhall, of Deep River, were united in marriage. On this occasion the beautiful, solemn Quaker ceremony was performed, both parties being members of that church. Miss Leslie Cartland, of Greensboro, was maid of honor. The decorations of festoons and flowers amid which the ceremony took place, were very handsome. A number of guests and friends from Greensboro, Lexington, Hertford, Deep River, and High Point were present. After the interesting marriage rites were completed all the guests were invited into the spacious dining room, where delicious refreshments were served. Both bride and groom have hosts of friends in this community, and are highly esteemed.

COTTON LETTER TO J. E. LATHAM.

New York, July 1.—The buying on the opening was good, based on unfavorable reports from Texas as to crop conditions. It was very natural to suppose that the continued drought had wrought damage to the crop, although the bears did not want to admit it. With no rain over Sunday a higher condition which is expected may not be regarded as extremely bearish considering what has happened since this report was made up. A large amount of the buying seemed to come from the South.

ANDERSON.

Journal of Commerce Report.

New York, July 1.—Journal of Commerce says: Condition report of June 23d is 85.9, an improvement of 2.1 over the preceding month and against 80.1 last year; season about normal. The continued drought makes small plant but is strong and healthy. All States except Texas and Oklahoma have been relieved by good rains. Fields are well cultivated and free from insects. Deep root. No acreage abandoned. Improvement showed increase in all States except Louisiana, which lost 7 points and Florida 6.6.

Conditions by States with changes: North Carolina, 87.7, gained 5.4; South Carolina, 79.6, gained 5.6; Georgia, 90.4, gained 1.1; Florida, 91, lost 6.6; Alabama, 91.4, gained 5.4; Mississippi, 83.9, gained 2.2; Louisiana, 82.8, lost 7; Texas, 83.2, gained 1; Arkansas, 86.7, gained 4.3; Tennessee, 86.5, gained 5.2; Missouri, 85.6, gained 6.1; Oklahoma, 88.6, gained 1.4; average, 85.9, gained 2.1.

With a record acreage and a condition only once exceeded in the past ten years, the prospects for a record crop is assuring, unless unusually adverse conditions prevail for the remainder of the crop year. The season has made up the lateness of a month ago and now appears to be about normal, no scarcity of labor has been reported and no acreage abandoned. Almost immediate relief from drought is needed in many portions of Texas and Oklahoma, otherwise the whole belt is in unusually good condition.

Hot and Dry in Texas.

New Orleans, July 1.—Gainesville, Texas, wires: "Still dry and hot; can't stand much more of this."

San Antonio, Texas, says: "This part of Texas around San Antonio and west is badly in need of rain."

CANNING SCHOOL HELD HERE

of North Carolina will appreciate the significance of this splendid work which has been inaugurated for the first time this year in our state, and when these demonstrators come to a community, there ought to be no trouble in getting both audience and necessary co-operation, to make the work of the greatest possible value to the community. County Supt. Foust is greatly interested in the work and its relation to the schools of the county, and has secured two gross of EZ seal fruit jars which will be used in connection with canning work in Guilford county.

Mr. Benson, of the Department of Agriculture, states that the work has thus far been experimental, and that beginning with October 1 definite organization and plans looking toward the organization of all the Southern States for the girls' canning and poultry club work will be taken up, and that eventually it will become a national movement and will in his judgment be one of the most important and humanitarian plans of work yet undertaken under the head of extension work.

The club members will exhibit their products and vegetable dishes and a written report at State, district and county fairs. If this work progresses, as it is believed it will, there will be no reason why the Southern population must be fed from the tin can and the commercial fruit packages for Jersey cream, together with fresh fruits and vegetables twelve months in the year, will have become a reality.

Baby Moose, Born In Captivity, Finds Life In Park Is Pleasant

BABIES are always interesting, and a baby moose is particularly so because it is uncommon. The moose itself is becoming extremely rare, and the authorities in charge of the menagerie at the Golden Gate park, San Francisco, were tremendously pleased some months ago when the Alaskan Packers' association presented four fine specimens to the zoo. The animals came from Cook Inlet, Alaska, and they have been popular since they became residents of San Francisco. The baby moose was an awkward little fellow, but he was able to stand on his wobbly legs within an hour after his arrival, and he staggered around the inclosure which is to be his home, inspected the fence and seemed to be satisfied with results. The mother was inordinately fond of the little fellow, but the father paid little attention to his offspring.

Farmers' Institute Parties.

Broom, assistant director of the farmers' institute division of the State Department of Agriculture, will make points on the Seaboard Air Line. The managers of the other four divisions will be Dr. F. L. Stevens, of the A. & M. College faculty; State Agronomist J. L. Burgess; State Horticulturist W. N. Hutt; and State Biologist Franklin Sherman. There will be two ladies, experts in domestic science and farm home problems, with each party to hold institutes for farmers' wives. These will include Mrs. F. L. Stevens, Mrs. W. N. Hutt, Mrs. Sue Hollowell, Goldsboro; Miss Minnie L. Jamison, Greensboro; State Normal; Mrs. Chas. McKimmon, Raleigh, and Mrs. C. R. Hudson, Raleigh.

"What makes that man keep saying he is not a candidate for office?"

"I don't know," replied Senator Sorghum, "unless it is in the hope that somebody will come out and contradict him."—Washington Star.

"Yes, sir."

"Have you ever been to the Zoo?"

"No, sir; why do you ask?"

"I was just thinking how thrilling you'd find it to sit and watch the tortoises whizz past."—The Tattler.

Horse Runs Away.

A runaway horse, the property of S. E. Hudson, had an exciting dash down Fayetteville street yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. The animal was being driven to a buggy occupied only by the negro driver. When he became frightened the horse began a flight that probably seemed dangerous at one time but he dashed the buggy into a pole and thus ridded himself of this hindrance to his speed. The negro was thrown out but not seriously injured nor did the buggy sustain but very little damage. The horse continued a mad chase down Asheboro street but was later recaptured when he tired of the frolic.

Municipal Court.

Jim Huffines and Jennie Hatchett, two brilliant colored lights of local society, engaged in a little social difficulty Friday night that eventually became so disorderly that the police were forced to take a hand and invite them to pass the night as guest of the officers in the city jail. They answered the charge of affray in Municipal court yesterday morning and each was taxed with the costs of the action, a total of $4.65 apiece.

Boys to Lake Outing.

On July 16 the following local boys will leave for a two weeks' camp at Wrightsville Beach: Wharton Newell, Jack Tunstall, Ed Latham, Kirkwood Dillon, Sidney Gayle, Wills Hunter, Lyman Dixon, Bill Townsend, Howard Saterfield and Pierce Dillon. The party when complete will consist of 12 members and will carry tents and camp supplies. On the trip down they will spend a night in Goldsboro and returning will sail up the Cape Fear as far as Fayetteville.

Negress Shoots at Colored Workman

Shortly after noon yesterday a hurry call at police station brought out several men of the force to another shooting scrape among the negroes on Lewis street. A negress said to be crazy went to the store occupied by I. Huntley's pressing shop and leaning through an open window, fired several shots from a revolver at a negro workman in the establishment, Clint Austen, who was using the phone at the time of the unwarranted attack. The woman vanished quickly from the scene without wounding the man and the policemen in the search following were unable to locate her whereabouts. A warrant was later sworn out by Austen for the negress, and though at a late hour last night she had not been caught, her location was ascertained and capture is certain to follow.

Wes Craig Again Placed in Lockup

West Craig, well-known in the courts of both city and county, was lodged in the city jail last night about eleven o'clock charged with assault. Mary Belle Williams, a disreputable dame from Danville, arrived here yesterday and soon proved the undoing of West. At a notorious house on West Whittington street, West, Mary Belle and another aspirant for the affections of the woman, all of the trio being negroes, unfortunately met together and the woman experienced some difficulty in deciding which of the men she should smite upon. Whereupon West was greatly angered and straightway proceeded to administer a sound thrashing to the fickle flirt. He was full of liquor and meanness and before the officers could respond to the call which was sent in, Mary Belle was painfully battered up about the head. West spent a very peaceful night in jail sleeping off the effects of his spree and awaiting his trial Monday.

Later the policemen returned to the house, which to say the least bears an unsavory reputation, and locked up another inmate named Willie Todd. She will be tried Monday for vagrancy.

Women and Society

Lady Maccabees.
The regular meeting of the Lady Maccabees will be postponed from next Tuesday afternoon until Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The occasion was one of huge enjoyment to all present and several of the guests took advantage of the occasion to express their sincere appreciation for the opportunity afforded them to be present. The menu was well calculated to appease the appetite of an epicure and it is needless to say that all present did justice to the repast. Rev. S. E. ## DEADLOCK OF HOUSE AND SENATE PREDICTED

House Proposes to Keep Faith With The People, Regardless of Senate's Action

—Hope of Early Adjournment of Extra Session Vanishes.

(By RODERICK CLIFFORD.)
Special to Telegram.

Washington, July 1.—A deadlock between the House and the Senate, before the end of the present extra session has become more probable by reason of the disagreement over still another bit of legislation—the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people.

The House, by a large majority, the vote being 172 to 112, has declined to accept the Senate amendment to the direct elections bill. It is another evidence that the House proposes to legislate in its own fashion, and to put the issue squarely up to the country in the event that the Senate fails to approve of the measures which have passed the House.

In rejecting the Bristow amendment to the direct elections bill, an amendment which reserves to the Federal government the supervision of all elections for United States Senators, the House did not even ask for a conference. It sent the bill back to the Senate in exactly the same form as that in which it passed the lower body. The House left to the Senate the method of extricating itself from the peculiar situation in which it finds itself.

It has been conceded for weeks that the Senate and House would be at variance over the proposed revision of the tariff. The delay of the Senate finance committee in reporting the farmers' free list bill evidenced the strained relations between the two bodies and, now that the woolen bill has gone over to the Senate, those relations have become more strained.

That the insurgents and the Senate Democrats were enabled to combine and to force through a motion that the Senate finance committee shall make some sort of a report on the wool bill within twenty days after its receipt was a straw to indicate the way in which the legislative whirlwind was blowing. The Senate Democrats were disgusted with the apparent purpose of the finance committee to keep the free list bill and the woolen bill in committee room as long as possible, or not to report them at all.

The temper of the Senate and House Democrats was in no wise improved by the fact that the finance committee withheld a report, for a long time, on the reciprocity bill, which passed the House by an overwhelming majority, and for the consideration of which the extra session was called by the President. When reciprocity was reported it was without recommendation on the part of the Senate committee, and this did not tend to make any more cordial the relations between the two houses.

The first show down came, however, on the bill for the direct election of Senators, which has now been acted upon by both Senate and House, but in entirely different shape. As the bill passed the House it left to the respective States the regulations regarding the time, manner and place of holding senatorial elections. When the bill got over into the Senate the Republicans were successful in obtaining the approval of the amendment proposed by Senator Bristow, a Kansas insurgent.

This amendment provides that the Federal government may step in, if it chooses, and take charge of the election of Senators in any State. The amendment is particularly obnoxious to Democrats who come from Southern States, in which there are negro disfranchisement laws. The Democrats reason that heretofore they have handled their elections satisfactorily, and they see little reform in the proposition to have the Federal government control the manner in which they shall elect members of the Senate.

Complications are feared and conflicts between State and Federal governments are bound to ensue if the Bristow amendment should ever become a law, believe the Democrats. The decisive vote in the House indicated that the members of that body will never approve the changes made in the direct elections bill by the Senate.

In this connection it is significant to note that the House vote on the Bristow amendment was almost entirely along party lines. Representative Burke, a Democrat, of Wisconsin, was the only one of the majority to vote with the Republicans on the question of Federal supervision of senatorial elections. Representative Sells, a Tennessee Republican, hailing from a State where the race problem is uppermost, voted with the Democrats who would leave each State to settle its own election affairs.

"Do you mean to say," said Representative Witherspoon, of Mississippi, voicing the general Democratic view, "that the Federal government is more qualified to say how we shall hold our elections than is the sovereign State of Mississippi?"

On the other hand, Representative James R. Mann, the minority leader, charged that the Democrats were opposed to the Bristow amendment because they feared that the grandfather clause in the constitutions of various Southern States would be declared unconstitutional in the event of a contest over any senatorial election.

The Democratic House, however, was obdurate in its stand that the government of the United States has no right to interpose in the manner of selecting senators from the various States, and that each sovereign State should be allowed to make its own election laws, just as each State legislature now meets and elects a member of the upper house of the national law-making body.

So the bill went back to the Senate after but a few hours debate in the House, but this short discussion was sufficient to illustrate the fact that the House will insist upon its position.

As the situation now stands between the Senate and House, a deadlock seems imminent over the direct election of Senators, the free list bill, and the woolen bill. The ways and Means committee of the House is now at work on a revision of the cotton schedule, and when this bill gets over to the Senate the lines will be all the more taut between the Democratic House and the Republican upper chamber.

Those who were predicting that the extra session would end by July 1 or July 15, have now abandoned that idea. The most optimistic members of either body do not now see, considering the differences that have arisen, how the wearied legislators may get away from Washington before the end of August, and there are some members who are predicting that the extra session may run on into the autumn, and even until December, when the regular session will begin.

The Democratic House declares that it is out to redeem platform pledges, that it is willing to stay here all summer to do so and that if the Senate attempts to impede remedial legislation they will appeal to the same voters who swept the Democrats into power in the House last November.

The coalition between the Senate insurgents and the Senate Democrats, which resulted in instructing the finance committee of that body to report the wool bill within twenty days after its receipt, was an almost unheard of proceeding, and indicates the temper of the Democrats. Motions have been made heretofore to discharge committees from the consideration of certain bills, but it was a new procedure when the Senate voted to instruct its finance committee—the most powerful of all its committees, that it should not pigeon-hole a measure sent over by the House.

Meanwhile reciprocity is still under debate and the more recent differences between the two bodies have dissipated all hopes of an early adjournment.

North Wilkesboro Boosters in Washington.

Washington, July 1.—A delegation of hustlers from North Wilkesboro reached Washington this morning and spent the day in boosting that thriving community and planning things for its advancement.

They called on officials of the Southern Railway and argued in favor of increased railroad facilities between North Wilkesboro and Greensboro, and also urged the improvement of the North Wilkesboro passenger station. They were cordially received and feel confident that something will be done by the railroad company to meet the demands of the citizens.

The visitors called at the Capitol and paid their respects to Senator Overman and Representative Page, listening for a short while to the Senate debate on reciprocity.

In the party were Bruce Craven, J. R. Finley, J. C. Smoot, E. H. Norris, W. R. Martin and H. W. Horton.

NEW ORLEANS GOING OUT OF REVOLUTION BUSINESS

Central And South American Countries Will Have to Quit Hatching Insurrections There—The Philosophy of Revolutions in These Tropical Countries.

(By SYDNEY ESPEY.)
Special Telegram.

Washington, July 1.—Officials of the State Department are convinced that New Orleans has finally seen the light, and wishes to remove from itself the stigma attached to it through its reputation for being the revolution-making center of the Western Hemisphere. The evidence upon which this conclusion is based is the receipt of a set of resolutions, signed by 17,000 business men of New Orleans, indorsing the conventions now pending in the Senate, providing for loans to be made under government supervision, to Honduras and Nicaragua by American bankers. These conventions, it is believed by Secretary of State Knox, if put into effect, will put an end to the revolution-making business intermittently carried on with New Orleans as the headquarters of the filibusters.

It is a recognized fact that revolutions in Central American countries are not political, but mercenary. Insurrections against the government of any of those little republics is regarded by all familiar with their characteristics, as the attempts of the "outs" to get possession of the spoils in the possession of the "ins." These spoils consist chiefly in the customs house receipts. The party that controls the government collects the customs, and as the customs are the great sources of revenue in these countries, there is, therefore, a rich prize awaiting the men who can successfully lead a revolution.

By the terms of the conventions with Honduras and Nicaragua, which are revolution-ridden countries of the most extreme type, State Department officials believe that the custom houses of these countries will be effectively placed beyond the control of any revolutionary plunderer. With this prize of all revolutions taken from them, it is believed the insurrectionists of Central America, and Americans who have been financing their filibustering and revolutionary expeditions, will be without an occupation. With revolutions once stopped, it is believed the resources of the Central American republics will be properly developed, without danger of interference. The continual political upheavals in these countries make the operation of any extensive business enterprise almost impossible. Not only are railroads interfered with and property damaged, but capitalists are reluctant to invest their funds under the precarious conditions usually existing. Furthermore, it is the almost universal practice of the revolutionists, once in power, to levy heavily upon foreign business interests for "contributions." Oftentimes, too, business firms of all sorts, development companies and corporations are invited to help finance revolutions, under promise of liberal concessions, once the revolutionary leader has gained control of the governmental machinery.

The Honduran convention was framed last winter, and presented to the Senate, but was never acted upon. It was taken up during the extra session, and favorably reported out of committee.

The Nicaraguan convention, which is identical in terms with that entered into with Honduras, was framed a few weeks ago, and received a favorable report from the Senate committee on foreign relations. The Honduran convention was so framed as to permit of its application to other Central American republics, as it is the intention of the Department, if these treaties be accepted, to negotiate others.

The conventions, stripped of diplomatic verbiage, provide that any loan made by American bankers to Central American republics shall conform to certain conditions before the contract shall have the approval of the United States government.

The most significant requirement is that the nation receiving such a loan shall give as security a claim upon the customs receipts. Certain portions of the monthly customs receipts, the percentage to be determined by contract, shall be set aside each month for the payment of the interest due the lenders. To insure the proper collection of the customs, and the prompt and regular payment of interest charges, it is stipulated that the customs shall be collected by a man to be chosen by the bankers lending the money, the collectors to be approved by the State Department. This collector shall, however, be an employee of the government receiving the loan, and shall not be any one connected in an official capacity with the United States.

The effect of this is to practically give the United States the power to designate the customs collectors for nations borrowing from American bankers. Officials thus named would be men thoroughly trusted by the State Department and the American bankers. They would be accountable to the bankers, and it is practically certain that the frauds now existing would no longer be possible. In case of a revolution, the new regime would be bound by the terms of the treaty as much as the old, and would be obliged to set aside the same portion of the customs receipts for payment of the interest charges on the loan. Thus, say State Department officials, there would be no use in leading a revolution, as the spoils will be unobtainable.

Supporters of this policy of Secretary Knox point to the great success of a similar arrangement with the little republic of Santo Domingo. By this treaty made in 1903, Santo Domingo was freed from revolutions ever since, whereas before the treaty it was in a constant turmoil. In this instance, it is an official of the United States who collects the customs, but it is not proposed to go to this extreme in the cases of Nicaragua and Honduras.

In 1903 the total imports of the Dominican republic were valued at $2,399,852, of which 53 per cent came from the United States. In 1910, seven years after the treaty was put into effect, the imports were $6,257,091, 60 per cent of which came from this country. The exports have increased in that period from four millions to ten millions with a corresponding increase of the United States share in this trade.

Results just as satisfactory can be effected in Central America, American diplomats believe. Nicaragua and Honduras, are almost as badly in debt as

PHILIPPINE COMMISSIONER SEEKS INDEPENDENCE FOR HIS PEOPLE

Guezon Has Mapped Out Two Plans For Attaining This End—Opposition to Freedom of Islands is Confined to Taft Administration Circles.

(By JONATHAN WINFIELD.)
Special Telegram.

Washington, July 1.—Manuel L. Guezon, one of the resident commissioners of the Philippine Islands, who exercises in the House of Representatives rights that are vested in territorial delegates, is persistent in his demand that Congress free the Filipino people.

A personal canvass of the members of the House and Senate has convinced him that the majority favor Philippine independence. Few, however, have given the slightest thought as to how this end is to be accomplished.

The sentiment of the House and Senate, as Commissioner Guezon finds it, is "that the Islands will be a menace to this nation in the event of war, and are today a gigantic and unwarranted expense." He has, therefore, after careful study, and knowing that Congress moves slowly, mapped out two legislative programs. His programs would both give what the Filipino people unanimously demand— independence.

Discussing his plans for this legislation he said today that there are two ways of putting an end to the sovereignty of the United States over the Philippine Islands.

"One is to give the Philippines independence as soon as a stable government has been organized," he explained. "This can be accomplished by enacting legislation which shall provide that within two years from the passage of the act, the Filipino people shall elect delegates to a convention which shall draft a constitution for a Philippine republic, and after the constitution for the new republic has been adopted by the Filipino people, they shall elect their officials. When these officials have been elected and duly qualified, the sovereignty of the United States over the Islands shall be given into the hands of the Filipinos, and the independence of the new government recognized."

"This is the way which will best suit the Filipino people," Commissioner Guezon explained. "The other way," he added, "is the gradual transfer of the government to the Filipinos. To carry this out, legislation will have to be enacted that will provide that it is the purpose of the United States to give the Filipinos their independence within eight years. A lesser period would be more acceptable to the Filipino people. After the passage of the act, the Filipino people shall elect and control the lower house, and their conduct in their half of the law-making under the American administration has been most creditable. With the upper house, they will have immediately the whole legislative machinery in their hands."

"Two years after the passage of the act, during which the Filipinos have been running the legislative machinery, there shall be held a convention to frame a constitution for the republic, and after its adoption by the people, the power of all American secretaries, now in charge of the different departments of the islands' government shall cease, and they shall be succeeded by Filipinos, duly elected by the people.

"Two years later the Filipinos shall have the right to elect the chief executive of the Republic. For the next two years there shall remain in the islands a commissioner known as 'Commissioner of the United States to the Philippine Republic,' who shall be an advisor to the President. At the end of this period full and absolute authority over the Philippines shall be given to the Filipino people by the United States."

"Both of these plans include the neutralization of the Philippine republic by an international agreement entered in by the United States, on behalf of the republic, with the powers. When the Filipinos are given their independence they would like to have a country exempt from the strifes of nations and neutral territory for all the world, as Switzerland is neutral in Europe."

"One of these plans is the only solution of the Philippine problem that will do justice to the Filipino people and honor to the United States. The world knows that the Filipinos helped the American troops defeat the Spaniards in the Philippines, because they were led to believe, and did believe, that the United States would not hold the Philippine Archipelago in subjection, but would free and help the Filipinos to establish an independent government."

"It is, therefore, a moral duty of the United States to the Filipinos, to give them their own government, and assure them the free enjoyment of their independence, by means of an international agreement. That the time is ripe for the liberty of the Filipinos and for the neutralization of the Islands, is evident. During thirteen years of American occupation, the Filipinos have shown that they are a progressive, civilized, law abiding, liberty loving people, and the sentiment of the civilized world in favor of peace is so strong that it will be an easy matter for the United States to get the powers to agree to neutralize the Philippine Islands."

Opposition to consideration of any legislation looking to Philippine independence, even such a law as would give assurances to the Filipinos that they would get their independence at the end of a designated term of years, comes only from the administration. President Taft and his advisors declare that the work of fitting the Filipinos for self government has not progressed far enough. He has as a sympathetic audience only the American employees of the Island government, men generally of Republican faith, who are drawing salaries in the Orient that are triple and sometimes four times greater than their highest earning capacity here. These employees who participate in a daily expense of $2,000,000 for maintaining the Island government, an estimated expense owing to the inability of Congress to find out just what the islands now and have cost the tax payers of the United States, have warm supporters in army officers. The retention of the islands means more soldiers and more soldiers mean more officers and many details for these officers which are accompanied by a greater authority and, what is much more important to them, greater pay.

Contravening Taft's expressed belief that the Filipinos have to be schooled a much longer time before their country is turned over to them, is President Schurmann, of Cornell University, a man fitted to weigh and dissect the mental fitness of a nation. He studied the Filipinos in the Philippines, and declares that they are fifty years advanced over the Cubans, who have fared much better at the hands of the United States.

The Standard Yard.
In 1855 there was completed a gun-metal bar, representing the Imperial standard yard of Great Britain. It was found, however, that standards made of bronze or gun metal were liable to an appreciable alteration in length through molecular and other changes, and accordingly a few years ago, the Imperial standard was replaced with a bar of iridium-platinum, consisting of 90 per cent platinum and 10 per cent iridium.

This new alloy is less alterable than bronze. The new bar was made of an X-shaped cross-section to combine rigidity with comparative lightness, and for one year it was subjected to a series of tests and measurements involving the most refined methods known to science. The bar has marked on it the length both of the standard yard and of the standard meter.—Harper's Weekly.

Cabarrus Bond Issue Sold.

Concord, July 1.—The $105,000 bond issue of Cabarrus county, which was authorized by the last legislature, was sold yesterday to Wooden-McNear & Moore, bankers, of Chicago. The bonds brought par and accrued interest less $3,500 to pay all expenses incident to issuing the bonds, making the rate of interest a little less than 4 per cent. The money from this bond issue, which is the first ever made by the county, will be used to pay all the outstanding indebtedness of the county, which is approximately $102,000.

BATTING AVERAGES WERE FATTENED BY THE PATRIOTS

Doyle's Bunch Pounded Sphere All
Over The Lot And Piled up
Eleven Runs—Morrisey Had Laval's Men at Mercy Throughout Game.

Doyle's men fattened their batting averages at the expense of Ferrell and Laval yesterday afternoon and won the last of the series with Spartanburg by a score of 11 to 0. The game was featured by the fast fielding and heaving batting of the locals and the brilliant work of Morrisey, who did the twirling for the Patriots. Only one man of the Spartan team reached third base and he was left there when the game was brought to an end by Morrisey's fanning Ferrell. Only two or three men got to second and at no time did the Musicians have anything like an opportunity to score. It was one of the best games the Deacon has worked out this year. There have been games in which he allowed fewer hits, but not another in which he had his opponents more at his mercy.

The game started off all Greensboro's way. In the very first inning Rickard led off with a single. Doyle sacrificed him to second. Fuller then came up and sent a hot one through Laval for a total of three bases, scoring Rickard from second. Doak hit a hot one to Kipp, who let it get away, and Fuller scored. Clapp hit to Kipp and he and Doak were out on a neat double. In the second Corwin led off with the prettiest hit of the game—a drive to the fence for three bases. Carroll singled and Corwin scored. In the third Rickard led off with a hit and Manager Laval sent Ferrell from the box and essayed the role of slabmen himself. Fuller thought it only proper to treat him as he had Ferrell, so he took another triple, scoring Doyle. Fuller scored when Doak went out at first. In the fifth Stuart was given a base on balls, went to second on a wild pitch and scored on Rickard's single. In the eighth the bases were filled up when Deacon Morrisey came in for his accustomed single and scored two runs. In the eighth Doyle got his three-bagger, but was out in an attempt to get home on Doak's grounder to second.

The Patriots had the biggest slugging bout they have had in a long time, and the team averaged about two hits apiece. Rickard got both his and Stuart's—a total of four hits in five times at the bat. Fuller got three hits, two of them triples. Doyle came off with a triple and single. Corwin a triple. Doak, Clapp and Carroll two singles each.

The visitors played a listless game. The fielding was not good, but the slab work of Ferrell and Laval was still poorer. The attendance was fair, but was still not all that it should have been.

ANDERSON TAKES ANOTHER STEP UP PERCENTAGE COLUMN

Greenville, S. C., July 1.—Anderson took the last game of the series from Greenville in the tenth inning, 5 to 4. Errors were made by both sides, affecting all the runs except the winning one, which came from a three-bagger and a single. Some pretty plays were made as well as some rotten ones. Greenville's runs came from three singles and four errors. In the fourth a base on balls, a wild pitch, a single and a double gave Anderson two runs. An error, an infield out and two singles tied the score in the fifth.

TWINS SCORED ONLY RUN IN YESTERDAY'S GAME WITH HORNETS

Charlotte, July 1.—In a close and exciting game the Hornets lost to the Twins today by the score of 1 to 0. Scheesley was on the mound for the locals and was unfortunate in that the only two hits secured by the Twins, a single and a double followed each other in the fourth frame and netted the only run of the game. Winston worked Hartford, a new man, and the six hits he allowed were well scattered.
In the fourth Shumaker singled and scored on Gates' drive for two sacks. After that the rubber was never in danger of being stepped on.
In the ninth Garman walked and Cross popped out. Umpire Nugent calling Garman out for interfering with the fielder. This caused the crowd to rush on the umpire and the police had to quell the disturbance. Mayor Blaud took charge of Nugent until the excited fans had cooled off.

Charlotte 000 000 000—0 6 2

DIAMOND DUST

Another shut out game for the Deacon.
We go up against the would-be champions of the league next.
Carroll was strictly on the job back at his old place at short.
President Brandt's umpiring average for the series is slightly ahead of O'Brien's.
We have the opportunity now of fetching Winston back, and don't have to depend on any other team.
If we can't put a crimp in the Twins this time there is no use asking other teams of the circuit to do it.
We are beginning to understand why Rickard, Doyle and Fuller are at the be## ginning of the batting list.

Rickard, Doyle, Fuller and Doak are the best run-getting combination to be found in this circuit.

The Patriots go to Winston tomorrow and will play there tomorrow afternoon and Tuesday morning, July 4th.

Next game here will be Tuesday afternoon, the Fourth of July. The game will be started half an hour earlier than usual to accommodate visitors to the city.

One of the largest crowds ever seen on the local diamond will witness the game with Winston here the afternoon of the Fourth of July. Deacon Morrisey will pitch for the locals and perhaps the "new find" of the Twins will twirl for them.

Doyle's men have four games with Winston the first three days of the week. By winning three of the four the Patriots will be at the top of the percentage column. There's no reason why this shouldn't be done. Simply because Winston is paying $500 a month more for players than we, carrying five pitchers and a manager who doesn't play.

doesn't mean that they have the better team.

Let's give the Patriots the biggest crowd they have ever had on the Fourth of July. One of the first principles of patriotism is to stand for local enterprises, and support the home team. On the afternoon of July 4th, Manager Doyle expects to make a little "declaration of independence," all of his own, and it will be aimed at Clancy and his bunch of overpaid and under-fed Twins.

HOKE SMITH GOVERNOR OF GEORGIA SECOND TIME

Atlanta, July 1.—Hoke Smith was inaugurated governor of Georgia today for the second time in his life. He was the immediate predecessor of Joseph M. Brown, who in turn was relieved by Smith today.

Smith was defeated by Brown when he stood for re-election. Brown had the tables turned on him in a similar manner by Smith when he recently ran for office the second time.

Smith was secretary of the interior during the second Cleveland administration. He is mentioned as a probable candidate for United States Senator when the Georgia legislature elects a successor to Senator Terrell in the near future.
